RESOURCES & PROGRAMS

NEW IACLE CONTACT LENS COURSE

The New IACLE Contact Lens Course (ICLC) was completed in April 2019 with the release of the final lecture, Dry Eye & Contact Lenses (D4).

The New ICLC comprises six modules and 33 PowerPoint lectures. In 2019 a major project began to translate the course into core languages – Korean (available), Spanish (available) and Simplified Chinese (due for release in 2020). Translations into non-core languages, French and Italian, are under way.

Also in 2019, the world's leading authorities on contact lenses have been reviewing and updating the course, adding new information. From 2020 the course will be regularly updated every two years, starting with the release of ICLC2020.

The New ICLC is available exclusively to IACLE members. A sample lecture can be found at www.iacle.org.

DISTANCE LEARNING PROGRAM

The New Distance Learning Program (DLP) was translated into Simplified Chinese and released in July 2019.

During 2018, the New DLP was fully revised by our Education Team to align with the New ICLC. The 2019 Fellowship Exam was the first administration for which the New DLP was available to members to prepare and 50 members completed the program prior to sitting the 2019 Fellowship Exam.

Fellowship Exam candidates are encouraged to use the New DLP when preparing for the next administration of the exam, which will take place in November 2021.

OUR EARLY HISTORY

IACLE office bearers, members and staff helped prepare a history of the early days of the association, from its founding meeting in Monte Carlo in November 1979. Around 16 contact lens educators attended that first meeting and agreed to form a new international organization for contact lens educators to share educational materials. The Early Years: 1979 -1993 records these developments and talks to those closely involved at the time.

Founding members of IACLE who attended its very first meeting in November 1979 were saluted at IACLE/BUCCLE Education Day. IACLE's Founding President Hilmar Bussacker (center), first BUCCLE Chair Richard Pearson (left) and former IACLE Vice President Des Fonn (right) described their experiences of the early days of IACLE.
