

January 2023

South Korean members meet at Ophthalmic Optics Society Meeting in December 2022

IACLE Korea Coordinator Professor Kyounghee Park met with members from four universities at the Ophthalmic Optics Society Meeting (4 December 2022). Professors Hyeong Su Kim from Choonhae Health University, Hyunju Bae from Masan University, Jang Cheol Shin from Busan Institute of Technology, Seeun Lee from Seoyoung University and Kyounghee discussed the importance of preparing for the Student Trial Exam (STE), particularly for those conducting the STE on IACLETOP for the first time. Professor Park also encouraged the optometry schools to conduct industry seminars.

Indonesian students attend first in-person session since the pandemic

Johnson & Johnson conducted an industry seminar at the Academy of Optometry GAPOPIN, where 50 third-year optometry students attended their first face-to-face session since the pandemic. The seminar focused on reviewing various contact lens procedures and Acuvue products.

Nilesh speaks at workshop in Pakistan

In December, Executive Manager of Educational Programs Nilesh Thite presented at the 'Advanced contact lens clinical practice' themed hybrid workshop at the Green International University in Pakistan (15 December). The aim of the workshop was to equip contact lens practitioners with advanced, practical knowledge in contact lens fitting and anterior segment evaluation and was organized by IACLE member Dr Memoona Arshad.

Nilesh presented virtually, discussing the opportunities to improve contact lens practice and gave an insight into what IACLE provides for its members. Over 100 delegates, including practitioners, educators, and students, attended the workshop.